

JOIN THE GLOBAL ETHICAL STOCKTAKE DIALOGUE

Ahead of the United Nations Climate Conference (COP30)
November 10–21, 2025 | Belém, Brazil

Communities worldwide are holding local dialogues on values, behaviors, and responsibilities for tackling the climate crisis

This global movement is called the Global Ethical Stocktake (GES) for COP30 on Climate Change

WHAT IS AN ETHICAL STOCKTAKE DIALOGUE?

It is a Self-Organized Dialogue in contribution to the GES. A local gathering where everyone's voice matters.

WHY PARTICIPATE?

Because world leaders need to hear from us and we need to clarify our role and responsibility. Together, we can:

- Share our values.
- Care for people and the planet.
- Send a message of hope to COP30.

GUIDING QUESTIONS FOR YOUR DIALOGUE

COP30 Presidency issued a set of five questions to guide the Self-Organized Dialogues.

HOW TO HOST A DIALOGUE

- Gather a group — big or small.
- Discuss the guide questions.
- Write short, heartfelt answers.
- Submit them so your voices are heard at COP30.

INSPIRED BY THE EARTH CHARTER

Use the Earth Charter as an ethical reference. Let these four pillars guide your dialogue:

- Respect & Care for the Community of Life.
- Ecological Integrity.
- Social & Economic Justice.
- Democracy, Nonviolence & Peace.

HOW TO TAKE ACTION

SHARING THE RESULTS OF YOUR DIALOGUE:

Here you will find the guiding questions and an online form to upload your dialogue results.

Please submit your inputs by 30 September!

Share photos of your dialogue on social media, mentioning where and when it took place, and tag @earthcharterinternational and @cop30.

TAKE ACTION TODAY!

- Be part of a global movement for ethical climate leadership.
- Host a dialogue in your school, community, or workplace.
- Share the outcomes of your dialogue with the world.
- Inspire others to join — every voice counts.

Together, we can shape the future with compassion, justice, and care for the Earth.
